

This wrapped clause continues across multiple lines purely to exercise the reflow editor, so selecting any single line should capture the whole block down to this closing period.

A separate short note stands alone.

Another wrapped block appears lower on the page with two long lines that the grouping should also keep together as one paragraph.